

One
IS NOT
prime!

For a number to be prime it must have two different factors.

In 1's case its factors are 1 and 1.

For a number to be prime it must be able to be divided by itself AND 1.

In the case of 1 'itself' IS one.

